MARRIED AT NEWPORT, R. I.

The Nuptials of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and Miss Elsie French Celebrated.

BRIGHTER SUN NEVER SHONE ON BRIDE.

Everything Connected With the Fair Bespoke Wealth—The Bride and Groom Were Playmates in Childhood's Days—ON the Honeymoon Trip.

Newport, R. I., Jan. 15.—Although in the depth of winter this well known watering place took on a semblance of its summer gaiety because of the wedding of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, probably the most wealthy of the third generation of the Vanderbilt family, and Miss Elsie French, a charming Newport girl and former playmate of the bridegroom, the daughter of Mrs. Frederick Orme French, a resident of the city for many years.

A brighter sun never shone for any bride, and in spite of a crispness in the air, it did not seem to be a winter's day.

The ceremony took place at noon, in the Zabriski Memorial church of St. John the Evangelist, far up in the old north part of the city, on the very shores of Narragansett bay, once the center of Newport's fashion, but now far removed from the social whirl of Bellevue avenue. Miss French made the choice of her own place of worship and her own home for the scene of the marriage, instead of selecting the more pretentious but less familiar surroundings which would have been found in New York.

The service was as ornate as the highest forms of the Episcopal church could make it. The wedding procession, a picture of loveliness and fine gowns, and the breakfast, which closed the formal proceedings of the day, was one of the grandest ever served in this city.

Although the ceremony was set for noon, an hour or more before that time saw the arrival of some of the guests at the church and those who came about 11 o'clock had the pleasure of listening to an organ concert and found leisure to marvel at the floral decorations.

Just as the tones of the "Lobengrin" march breathed softly forth, the two clergymen, Rev. George F. Beatty, rector of the church, and Rev. G. Brinley Morgan, rector of Christ church, at New Haven, entered from the side door, followed by the bridegroom and his brother, Reginald Vanderbilt, the best man.

At the same time the bridal procession started up the main aisle, the ushers leading, followed by the four bridesmaids.

At the altar Mr. Vanderbilt met his bride. Together they stood before the steps of the chancel until Dr. Morgan had finished reading the betrothal portion of the service when they ascended into the chancel and at the altar Dr. Beatty completed the ceremony and pronounced them husband and wife. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played as the wedding procession moved down the aisle and out of the church. The ceremony occupied about seven minutes.

For the reception "Harbor View," the residence of Mrs. French, had been prepared with great care. The broad verandas all inclosed in glass were lined with small pine trees, while within the house brilliant flowers met the eye. The bride and groom received their friends while standing in the large hall beneath a canopy composed entirely of Golden Gate roses.

The poinsettia, the crimson Mexican Christmas flower, was the prevailing feature of the decorations in the dining room. At the conclusion of the wedding breakfast a number of toasts were drunk to the health and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt. The bridal pair left later in the afternoon on their honeymoon trip.

Not Murdered After All.

Mount Vernon, Ind., Jan. 13.—The excitement caused here by the supposed murder of Thomas Morgan ended suddenly, Friday, when a telegram was received from Capt. Bernard Morgan, dated at Duquoin, stating that his brother, Thomas Morgan, had appeared at that place and was still there.

The Jessie Morrison Case.

Eldorado, Kas., Jan. 13.—The second trial of Jessie Morrison for the murder of Mrs. Olin Castle will be held at the March term of court. The district judge has formally assigned the case to a place on the docket.

President McKinley Takes a Drive.

Washington, Jan. 14.—President McKinley was so much improved in health yesterday, that he was able to go out for a short drive. It is expected that a few more days will see him again able to attend to business.

Not Criminally to Blame.

Dunkirk, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Coroner Blood's verdict in the Fredonia Normal school fire, made public yesterday, finds that no officers of the school were criminally to blame for the deaths of the six students and the janitor.

Driven Back to the Bush.

Colon, Columbia, Jan. 12.—The few rebels who were outside the town of Panama have been driven back to the bush by the government troops. There is no extensive revolutionary movement.

ENGLISHMEN AROUSED.

Mental Treatment of Peace Envoys by Boers at De Wet's Lager. Near Lindley.

London, Jan. 14.—The brief report of the fate of the three members of the peace commission, who were sent to see Gen. De Wet, excites the deepest indignation on all sides. One or two papers express a hope that Lord Kitchener has been misled by false reports, but it is generally felt that he would not have reported the matter to the war office without undoubted evidence.

The Daily Mail heads the report with the word "Murder," and declaims any further attempt to coax the enemy into submission. "De Wet has placed himself outside the pale of humanity," says the Daily Mail; "and not proclamations, but large reinforcements must be our watchword."

PEACE AGENTS FLOGGED.

Brutal Orders Issued by Gen. De Wet—Boer Attacks Repulsed.

London, Jan. 14.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Kitchener:

"Pretoria, Sunday, Jan. 13. "About fourteen hundred Boers crossed the line, attacking both Zuurfontein and Kalfontein stations but were driven off. They are being pursued by a cavalry brigade."

Lord Kitchener reports, also, several skirmishes at different points, with trifling British losses, and adds: "Three agents of the peace commissioners were taken as prisoners to De Wet's lager, near Lindley, January 10. One, who was a British subject, was flogged and then shot. The other two, burghers, were flogged by De Wet's orders."

NEELY EXTRADITION CASE.

The United States Supreme Court Says Neely Must Be Surrendered to Cuba.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The United States supreme court rendered a decision in the Neely extradition case. The court held that Neely was subject to extradition and must be surrendered to the Cuban authorities.

The court held that Cuba is foreign territory, our only purpose in the war with Spain was to free the Cubans from Spanish domination. The decision was based upon the act of June 6, 1899, which act was held to be constitutional.

Justice Bryan handed down the court's opinion, which was unanimous, and immediately after the opinion was concluded order was issued requiring that the mandate in the case be issued at once.

PROMINENT PASSENGERS.

A Number of Prominent Personages to Sail for New York on the Steamer Oceanic.

Liverpool, Jan. 14.—The passenger list of the White Star line steamer Oceanic, which sails from this port via Queenstown for New York, Wednesday, contains the names of Mrs. Arthur Paget, Sir William Orr-Ewing, Sir Weetman Dickinson Pearson and Lady Pearson, and Robert Lorraine, who has just returned from South Africa, where he served in the Yeomanry, and who goes to New York to play the leading part in Froman's "To Have and To Hold."

Court of Pension Appeals.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The general committee of the G. A. R., Leo Rasse, of St. Louis, commander-in-chief; Robert B. Brown, of Zanesville, O.; Charles C. Adams, of Boston; John W. Burst, of Chicago; O. H. Coulter, of Topeka and John Palmer, appeared before the house invalid pension committee and argued in favor of the bill for the creation of a court of pension appeals to consider rejected pension claims. There are about 100,000 cases adversely passed upon each year by the pension office.

Not So Bad as Threatened.

Madrid, Jan. 14.—The fire which broke out at an early hour yesterday morning at Mucientes, Province of Valladolid, and which, for a time, threatened half the town with destruction, has been extinguished. No great damage was done, apart from the loss of two lives.

Millions of Bushels of Coal Afloat.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 14.—Fully 3,000,000 bushels of coal are on the way south, and before the present rise in the Ohio is checked 2,000,000 more will probably be shipped. The fleet now on the way is made up of 197 boats and 84 barges.

Returned from a Fool's Errand.

Middletown, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Charles Belling, who recently accompanied Wilson Wright to San Francisco, to search for $100,000 of buried treasure, on the advice of a clairvoyant, has returned empty-handed to his home near this city.

Aged Couple Die at Staunton.

Staunton, Ill., Jan. 14.—Samuel Steigemier, aged 94 years, died yesterday morning. His wife, aged 84 years, died Saturday night.

The Mosquito Fleet.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Jan. 14.—The United States war vessels Annapolis, Frolic, Wampatuck and Picatagua, constituting the Mosquito fleet, which arrived here January 2, sailed at half-past nine o'clock yesterday morning. The officers have expressed themselves as charmed with their visit.

Four Hundred Fishermen Missing. Yokohama, Jan. 14.—It is officially reported that 400 fishermen are missing and that they are supposed to have perished in a storm, January 10, off the west coast.

ALL ON BOARD RESCUED

Passengers and Crew of the Stranded French Steamer Russie All Safely Landed.

A LONG NIGHT OF TERRIBLE SUSPENSE.

The Fishermen and Life Savers of Farman Were Unremitting in Their Efforts at Succor, Which Were Finally Crowned with Perfect Success.

Farman, Bouches du Rhone, Jan. 12.—After a night of terrible suspense, all of the passengers and crew of the French steamer Russie, from Oran, Algeria, which stranded near here during a violent storm, Monday, have been safely landed.

As the life line connected from the shore with the steamer parted again Thursday afternoon, when night set in no communication with the stranded steamer was possible. The last signaled message read as follows:

Not a Scrap of Food Left. "We have not a scrap of food left. Consternation prevails on board."

On receipt of this appeal, the fishermen made two more plucky launches of their boat, but were beaten back, and as the Russie disappeared in the darkness those on board apparently were trying to launch their only remaining boat.

The storm raged with renewed fury during the night and only those who were compelled to do so stayed on the shore, part of them huddled beneath a tarpaulin, and others seeking refuge from the gale in the Farman lighthouse.

At midnight two boats, with lines attached to them were launched, but both attempts to reach the Russie were fruitless.

Another Fruitless Effort.

In the early hours of the morning torches were lighted at the bow of the Russie, and in response to the signal the fishermen made another effort to reach the wreck. But they were again tossed ashore, and the crew of the life boat, who belong to the fishing village of Carro, gathered round a bonfire made of wreckage from the steamer, drenched to the skin and with teeth chattering from cold, but not discouraged.

Heroism Finally Rewarded.

Their heroism finally was rewarded, as, with daybreak, the weather perceptibly moderated the sea became calmer and the wind, having shifted from the east to north, the Carro fishermen at about 6:30 a. m. again put out to sea. The spectators watched with fast-beating hearts as the boat disappeared through the waves. More than once it was thought she was engulfed, but the small craft rose in sight again on the crests of the waves approaching gradually nearer to the Russie.

Alongside the Wreck.

Then a rope was thrown, which the fishermen caught, and the life boat soon afterwards, was alongside. Then, above the howling wind, rose cries of joy from those on board the Russie, which were re-echoed by the crowd ashore. Another boat, manned by four men, was then launched and succeeded in reaching the wrecked vessel. A few minutes later the Carro boat left the Russie's side, heavily laden. As she approached the shore the occupants were seen to be women and one baby.

Delirious Enthusiasm.

The enthusiasm was delirious. The spectators plunged into the sea. Some of them dragged the life boat ashore and others lifted the women out of the boat and carried them in their arms, through the waves, to dry land. One woman was clasped in the arms of her son, who had been waiting on shore since Monday. She swooned and had to be transported, on a stretcher, hastily constructed from wreckage, and covered with blankets, to the lighthouse. The other women collapsed from fatigue, cold and hunger. Their haggard faces and trembling limbs told of the awful experiences they had gone through.

A Lack of Foresight.

It was unfortunate that want of foresight resulted in all the nourishment being kept at the lighthouse, two miles distant, for the sufferers had to walk there, assisted by their friends, before restoratives could be administered to them.

The four-oared boat next arrived with seven more passengers, and the life boats then made repeated journeys, until all were saved and sheltered in the lighthouse.

Death Before Darkness.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Crazed by the prospect of total blindness and told she was beyond all medical help, Margaret Donovan, 26 years old, who lived with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Donovan, Fifty-fifth street and Indiana avenue, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid.

Large Find of Diamonds.

Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 12.—The mail from Demarara brings a report of large finds of diamonds in the interior of British Guiana. A company has been formed in England to work the claims.

Four Hundred Fishermen Missing.

Yokohama, Jan. 14.—It is officially reported that 400 fishermen are missing and that they are supposed to have perished in a storm, January 10, off the west coast.

"I Would Not Have Catarrh for a Million Dollars," Says Mrs. Carter—Pe-ru-na her Safeguard.

MRS. LESLIE CARTER, THE GREAT ACTRESS, OF NEW YORK CITY.

Mrs. Leslie Carter, probably the most prominent actress in America, says the following of Pe-ru-na:

"Pe-ru-na is sure to prevent a cold. It will stop a cough before it becomes settled. It cures all catarrhal affections like magle. No money could tempt me to be without this remedy for even a day. It is just the remedy that all women need, especially such women that are exposed to the vicissitudes of climate, as I am."

"I never neglect an opportunity to recommend this remedy to my friends. It is America's greatest remedy for America's greatest enemy, catarrh and catarrhal affections. I would not have catarrh for a million dollars, and as long as I have Pe-ru-na at hand to promptly check the slightest symptoms of its approach, I feel perfectly safe from this disease."

N. Leslie Carter. Mrs. M. Dooley, Mount Airy, Habersham county, Ga., in a recent letter says: "I suffered five years more or less with catarrh of the stomach and pelvic organs. I tried a good many remedies of my own, and bought medicine from a doctor that was highly recommended, although the medicine did me no good whatever. Finally, I concluded to submit my case to Dr. Hartman. I wrote him, and he readily advised me. I bought some Pe-ru-na, and a few days later was taken with a gripe. I took Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin and I can say without a doubt that it has entirely relieved me of all my ailments. I feel better and stronger than I have in many years. My appetite is all right, I have no symptoms of my former troubles remaining. I am able to do my usual work without fatigue, and have every reason to believe that my health is the direct result of the use of Pe-ru-na and

Man-a-lin, without which I should have been dead by this time. There is no medicine that can equal Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin. I find it a sure cure for all catarrhal affections; as for a gripe there is no other remedy that can compare with it. I can scarcely find words to express my gratitude for Dr. Hartman's good advice and kindness to me.

The peculiar ills to which women are subject are often very dangerous. It frequently happens that the victim lives far from competent medical assistance. What shall she do? She is not wealthy enough to go to some distant city for treatment, and cannot procure skillful assistance at home. This is what she should do: write Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O., tell him the whole story, and he will do the rest. Mrs. Margaret Fietz, Wilcox, O. T., writes: "I extend my sincere thanks for the good advice you have given me. I do not believe I would be living now if it were not for you. I had suffered with hemorrhage for four months and the doctors could help me but little. They operated on me three times. It was very painful, and I only obtained a little relief. As long as they worked at me, the hemorrhage stopped; but just as soon as they closed the door it would commence to flow again. I was so weak I could not turn in bed. At last my neighbors began to speak of patent medicines. Then I applied to Dr. Hartman. I did not know whether he could help me or not; but I followed his advice and only used three bottles of Pe-ru-na. Now I am well and as strong as I ever was."

Every woman should have Dr. Hartman's free book to women. Address: Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

When all that portion of the United States west of the Missouri and Kaw rivers was a trackless wilderness, nearly half a century ago, the first issue of one of the world's greatest newspapers appeared. St. Louis, which was then a mere overgrown town on the western frontier of civilization, has developed into a great commercial metropolis; and the great modern newspaper, the ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT, has kept pace with the progress of its city and section. It has been, from its first issue to the present time, the children's tutor, the youth's counselor, the woman's companion, the farmer's instructor and friend. Its circulation extends to every state and territory of the Union, to Canada and Mexico, and to every part of the world where there are readers of the English language. It ought to be in your home during the coming year. See advertisement elsewhere in this issue.
